

[Double Width Offset Length Swab]

Abstract

A swab is detailed which is formed of two components: a straight, flat, wide plastic stick with a cutout at each end providing an offset length; and an absorbent material, either cotton or foam rubber, which is attached to each end of the stick completing the swab construction. This design provides a safer and more versatile alternative to traditional swab design.